

At 21 years old, I am...

-One semester from graduating college with a degree no one seems to hire

-In massive debt because of that once “dream degree”

-About to become a mother to a baby whose illness has gotten us booted off government health insurance...at 9 months pregnant...

-Scared for our future

-I am the 99%-